ment and many are the voices and good ones found here. The sopranos and altos predominate as soloists, and their singing is marked by great dis-cretion and full knowledge of the work in hand. While the church hears much that is good from the voices of these ladies and gentlemen, the drawing room, musicale, or the quiet home evening affords a wider field for their vocal ability. Among the solo soprano voices thus giving pleasure is Miss Lulu Rathbone, daughter of the late Mr. Justus Rathbone, the founder of the order of Knights of Pythias.

'Belshazzar's Feast" and Barnby's 'Rebekah," all given this season. Miss Rathbone's voice is well adapted for such work by reason of its flexible nature. Her intonation is good, as is her phrasing, and the voice throughout is sympathetic. Her ballad singing is a marked feature of her accomplishment, her pronunciation being excellent.

Mrs. Blanche Berkley represents one of Alexandria's oldest families, and in the musical as well as social world is greatly appreciated, contributing, as is greatly appreciated, contributing as she does, largely to the pleasure of all gatherings by her pleasing voice, whose excellence is always marked when she sings. Among the bass soloists Mr. Hatley Norton is a representative singer, whose solos in concert or church are sung with refined appreciation, the result of training. He is capital in opera and hence is in demand all through the

With equal merit Mr. James Peyton is much thought of in society circles, and for the call of charity is ever ready with a good voice, which he manages well.
